brought to the kind attention in the routine note below.

3 The point which seems to call for consideration is that with the regularly organised Local Audit Dept and the strengthening of the Comptroller's office staff whether there continues to be a necessity for a separate post of an auditor for the Civil Courts outside the sphere & control of the Local audit Dept.

7 The history of the appointment of Civil Court Auditor which has been in existence since 1901 is clearly explained in the Assistant Secretary's note A paras 5 to 11 in file 169-12.

8 In that file orders were passed on this point and it was stated in the last para of the order that this question would be examined in connection with the reorganization of the Comptr's office, proposals for which were then pending before Govt. As the Comptr has pointed out in the letter under disposal, this point does not seem to have been taken into consideration while passing the order of 17.9.13 revising his Establishment as evidenced by it not having been entered in the preamble to that order.

His appointment permanent and including it in the local Audit Staff under the officer in charge of local Audit has been explained in the Comp's letter No 6700/R3A2 dated 5.4.1913. x The opinion of the Chief Court agreeing with the Comp^y is also on record.

10. Whatever may have been the reasons for creating this appointment in the year 1901 & whatever may have been the ideas regarding it, it has been treated as an additional temporary appointment since then and has continued for over a dozen years and it can scarcely be considered after ~~this lapse of time~~ such a length of time that it is not necessary now or should be abolished especially in view of the repeated representations of the Comp^y ~~to the~~ as King for additions to his Existing establishment.

18. In his letter to the Chief Court dated 24 March 1913, the Comptroller suggests both the alternatives as feasible, namely that there should be permanent Civil Courts audit and that audit of Courts might be taken up by the outside audit branch of his office as in other cases. These are to some extent inconsistent with each other. What is the practice in Madras? If as the Comptroller states, it would be better to entrust the audit to different auditors in different years there would be no necessity to continue the appointment of a Special auditor for Civil Courts. The matter requires further elucidation

19. What the Comptroller really wants is to make the appointment of the Civil Court Auditor a permanent one and to include it in the Local Audit Department of his office. This will, as explained by the Financial Secretary, no doubt lead to beneficial results, but some points require to be cleared before sanction can be accorded.

20. The work of the Civil Court Auditor should be taken up by L.A.D. after it has been organised, according to orders appear to have been passed already. (Vide Fl. 1548 dated 12th April 1902 not in the file). L.A.D. consisting of 6 auditors and one clerk was sanctioned in November 1910. As 4 circles of audit appear to have been formed, it is not clear whether the Civil Courts accounts could not be audited by these circles within their territorial jurisdictions without a separate Civil Court Auditor. If an additional hand is considered necessary, it is a question whether a hand on Rs.100-10-150, and not a junior accountant, is to be employed, especially when the auditor is to be one of L.A.D. and his work is to be supervised by the Officer in charge of the Department.

SIR,

I have the honor to invite kind reference to my No.6700/R.832 of the 5th April 1913 with two enclosures requesting that the post of Civil Court Auditor which has been in existence for over twelve years may be declared permanent.

The Chief Court concurred with me in this recommendation but in para 2 of Government order No.Fl.7236/G.F.169-12-3 of the 12th June 1913 Government however reserved this matter for consideration in connection with the proposals for the reorganisation of my office which was then pending before Government. But while passing the orders contained in Government Order No.Fl.1633/G.F.13-12-9 of the 17th September 1913 this matter does not seem to have been considered

Under these circumstances I again bring it to the notice of Government and solicit the issue of favourable orders early.

The grounds on which my proposal was based are given at length in my letter No.6229/R.350 of 24th March 1913 to the Chief Court copy of which was sent to Government with the letter quoted above
